To Whom It May Concern,

A.J. Weller Corporation is a leader in wear resistant material technology. We have been in business more than thirty-two years, providing wear resistant engineered solutions for top corporations in the cement, pulp and paper, mining/extraction, steel and power industries.

Participating in the ISN program was initially a very time consuming and daunting task. However, the process showcases our company's effort to meet or exceed the OSHA and MSHA safety regulations. Prior to ISNetworld, our company provided extensive prequalification documentation for our valued customers. Now, utilizing the ISN program, all of the required data is available at a single source to our customers.

The customer service group at ISN was a tremendous help, assisting us to complete the MSQ and RAVS verification process.

The health and safety of our employees has always been a high priority. Now, through ISNetworld, the A.J. Weller safety achievements are clearly showcased.

Best Regards,

Jay Willhoite
