To Whom It May Concern:

Jeff King Contractor, Inc. believes that integrating health and safety into every operation of our corporation is of the utmost importance. The health and safety of our employees continues to be the first consideration in our operations and the key to our success. We strive to meet and exceed our clients Environmental Health and Safety (EHS) standards and believe our relationship with ISN has been a key component to our success.

While the beginning phase of our ISN relationship was somewhat daunting, upon completion of the MSQ and RAVS safety program verification process; we realized that ISNetworld was an excellent way to showcase our achievements in all areas of safety. ISNetworld streamlines the reporting process and allows our EHS programs to be reviewed against current regulations and protocols, ensuring a high level of compliance. Overall, ISNetworld is simple, user friendly and easy to navigate.

Prior to ISNetworld we faxed our EHS programs, insurance and OSHA documentation to clients all over the United States. We found this process to be inefficient and often duplicative. With the ISNetworld database, all of our information is easily available to all Owner Clients who are ISNetworld subscribers.

From the beginning of our relationship with ISN, the customer service we have received has been awesome. They provide great phone support and even one-on-one help sessions to those that need assistance. We are glad to be members of ISNetworld and look forward to what the relationship holds in the future.

Sincerely,

Debi Deaton
Environmental Health and Safety Coordinator
