Re: ISNetwork – A Catalyst between Clients and Contractors

As a relatively new user, I was asked to capture some of my thoughts regarding the value being brought to our company by ISNetwork.

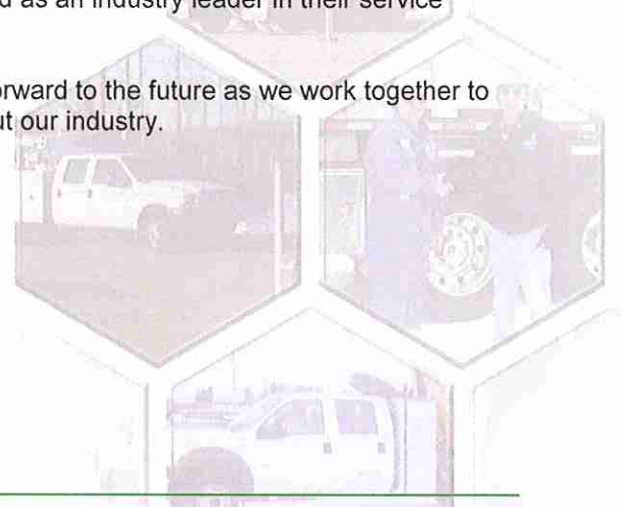

As a company celebrating 40 years of service excellence in post industrial construction activities including Commissioning, Plant Maintenance, Plant Shutdowns, and Projects within existing facilities, the people of Quinn Contracting Ltd are very proud of their "Quinn Culture"; a culture founded on safe work practices and quality workmanship. We are also proud of our ensuing performance and we strive to capitalize on this past performance for future gains. ISNetwork provides an excellent platform for Quinn Contracting to capture, organize and present meaningful historic data and current processes to existing and potential clients in our niche market.

We are very pleased with the easily accessible database ISNetwork provides as a medium to communicate pertinent safety and quality process data to our Clients. The information is presented clearly, audited rigorously and updated regularly to ensure our Clients have relevant information at their finger tips. ISNetwork staff are always easy to contact, pleasant to deal with and are a valuable resource when educating a new system user or trouble shooting a rare issue. In addition to this, we can rely on the staff of ISNetwork to provide a positive environment where Client and Contractor representatives can meet, understand each others needs and subsequently lay a foundation for a solid business relationship. At Quinn Contracting, we recognize the staff of ISNetwork are committed to connecting corporations with safe and reliable vendors. The verification process used to validate contractor self-reported health, safety and procurement related data has likely established ISNetwork as an industry leader in their service niche.

It has been a pleasure to work with ISNetwork and we look forward to the future as we work together to develop a culture of safety and quality workmanship throughout our industry.

Sincerely

Paul Chapin
