ISN Hosts 2010 Annual Users Conference in Houston, Texas

DALLAS (May 12, 2010) – On April 13 & 14, 2010, ISNetworld Owner Clients and Contractor/Suppliers from around the world met in Houston, Texas for the 2010 Annual Users Conference to share best practices for using ISNetworld as well as hear regulatory and industry related updates. Approximately 1,000 people from more than 600 companies attended the two-day conference, making it the largest conference yet.

The 2010 Annual Users Conference included general and breakout sessions with topics impacting Owner Clients and Contractor/Suppliers in the energy, biopharma, manufacturing and mining industries, to name a few. Regulators such as the US Coast Guard, The National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH), Pipeline and Hazardous Materials Safety Administration (PHMSA), OSHA Educators and the Former Asst. Secretary of Labor provided attendees with updates.

Additionally, President George H. W. Bush, Forty-first President of the United States, and Commander Kirk S. Lippold, former Commanding Officer of the USS Cole, highlighted the agenda.

“The feedback we have received from the attendees has been overwhelmingly positive,” noted President Joseph Eastin. “We structure our Users Conference in a way that updates our customers on industry trends and regulatory updates. We don’t just talk about our system, we speak to the users’ objectives and what impacts their business from a safety perspective.”

This years’ Annual Users Conference also featured three panel discussions: “Why Use ISNetworld?”, “Insurance Panel Discussion for Owner Clients and Vendors” and a question and answer panel on “The Department of Transportation, Operator Qualifications, Training and Substance Awareness”.

More than 300 users attended one-on-one help desk sessions to answer specific ISNetworld-related questions. Additionally, more than 200 attendees received Continuing Education Credits for attending the conference.

“It is exciting to see ISN Users from a wide variety of industries engaged and networking to create a safer workplace” said Bill Addy, CEO.
